

A/V and Stage Preferences

Thank you for including Dr. Fotuhi in your event. The notes below are simply to help your team prepare. He is very easy to work with and happy to adapt to whatever setup you have available.

Presentation File

Dr. Fotuhi will email his slides to you in advance so your team can load and test them ahead of time. Please note that his presentation includes audio and video clips, so confirming that sound plays correctly during setup is appreciated. If any technical issues arise on the day of the event, he can present from his own laptop as a backup.

Microphone

A wireless lavalier microphone is preferred, as Dr. Fotuhi likes to move around and engage with the audience. A handheld wireless or a podium mic will work fine too if that is what is available.

Slide Control

A wireless slide clicker for advancing slides is helpful. If one is not available, he is happy to work with whatever your team has on hand.

AV Check

If possible, a brief AV check about 30 minutes before the session would be great, mainly to confirm the audio and video clips are working properly.

Confidence Monitor

A confidence monitor is a nice bonus if available, but not a requirement.

Stage Setup

Dr. Fotuhi prefers an open stage without a podium so he can move freely and connect with the audience. That said, he is completely comfortable working with any stage configuration you have.

A bottle of water nearby is always appreciated.

Audience Seating

Dr. Fotuhi's talks are interactive and engaging. If possible, encouraging attendees to fill the front rows first helps create great energy in the room for everyone.

Please feel free to reach out directly to Dr. Fotuhi with any questions. His email address is mfotuhi@jhu.edu and his mobile number is 443.722.0888.

He looks forward to a wonderful event with your group.
